Alumni Association News

September 2009

Dear John,

Maintaining the ITP Community of Alumni and promoting YOU, your practice and your endeavors, are the #1 jobs of the Alumni Association. In this issue, you'll learn about several ways ITP's Alumni Association can help you, including:

- Website design and hosting from TherapySites (www.therapysites.com) which specializes in websites for therapists that are professional, affordable and effective. Use promo code "PromoITP" to get one month free ($59/month hosting thereafter).
- Promote YOUR event or workshop (anywhere in the world) on www.itp.edu. Email alumni@itp.edu with your event information.
- Continuing Education Workshops: Visit www.itp.edu/academics/cedschedule.php for event listings.
- New client referrals: Email alumni@itp.edu to be sure you're listed in our Therapist Directory.
- And more!

Mark your calendars for the ITP/ATP Conference next February 12-14 at Menlo College in Atherton, and join us for the Alumni Association sponsored lunch on Saturday Feb. 13th. Join us for the day or the entire conference! Watch for more details via email.

We're here to help. We'd love to hear from you!

Warmly,

Valentine McKay-Riddell, Ph.D
Lisa J Ferguson Arthur, MACP
Alumni Association Co-Presidents

Featured Profile: Sheila Haddad (MATP, 1993)

Sheila Haddad, M.A. Transpersonal Psychology
 Graduated in 1993 with an MA in Transpersonal Psychology. In 1988 she started her practice in Seido Bio Energy Therapy, which is a hands-on modality in the field of energy medicine. Sheila found the ITP training very beneficial to her healing work.

More information on Bio Energy Therapy and her certification program in it can be found on her website www.livingtheway.com.

In addition, she is a martial artist, teaching internationally and training twice a year in Japan. She also holds workshops in women's self defense, with the emphasis on intuition, self-trust and prevention. Her passion is photography and she has several projects happening in that area. Sheila and her husband currently live and work Germany.

ITP Alumni Association Mission

To promote ITP alumni and their work in service of others, and to provide lifelong connections to the ITP community, along with opportunities to connect to shared values and spirit.

ALUMNI PUBLICATIONS

If you have recently published a book, article, CD, DVD, established an organization, or made a conference presentation, please email alumni@itp.edu and we'll included it in our new Alumni Publications section!

Takaniri Tajiri's dissertation has been published by VDM Verlag, 2009! The title of the published book is: The effects of the mirror in the psychomanteum process: On thoughts, emotions, self-efficacy, consciousness, and creativity for finding solutions to everyday life problems. (This is a somewhat expanded title from the dissertation!) Taaj is our first international student from Japan to graduate from the doctoral program. We have had some email conversations with publishers who are putting dissertations in print, and this is the first one that has come out, so far. It is available on Amazon.

Congratulations Taj!

JOBS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Assistant Professor of Psychology-Tenure Track Position

The Clinical Psychology Doctoral Program at LIU/CW Post Campus invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin September 2010. Our APA-accredited program leading to the PsyD degree adheres to the practitioner-scholar model. The program provides its students with clinical and theoretical training in cognitive-behavioral and psychoanalytic orientations. The successful candidate will be expected to initiate or maintain an active, externally-funded research program and to contribute to graduate education.

Pending budgetary approval, review of applications will begin October 15, 2009 and continue until the position is filled.

For more information on the program, see: <http://www.cwpost.liu.edu/cwis/cwp/clas/psych/doctoral/>

ALUMNI CLASSIFIEDS

HOST AN INTERNATIONAL STUDENT AND ITP WILL GET $50!

The Aspect Foundation, a nonprofit organization providing affordable study abroad opportunities for youth from over 50 countries since 1985, is looking for host families in the greater Bay Area. Students, aged 15-18 are here for the school year and have their own spending money and health insurance. Families need to provide a loving home, meals and a bedroom which can be shared with a similar aged child of same sex.

For each placement that comes through ITP, the school gets a $50 donation!

For more information, please visit: www.aspectfoundation.org or contact Constance Chapman at chapman.connie@yahoo.com.

CENTER FOR THE DIVINE FEMININE

The Center for the Divine Feminine at the Institute of Transpersonal Psychology is a resource to students, alumni, faculty, staff, and the local and global communities by offering a variety of scholarships, grants, seminars, and workshops focused on educating and creating awareness about the Feminine face of the divine and how it shows up in men's and women's lives. Visit www.centerforthedivinefeminine.com for more information and to get on their mailing list to receive the latest information on their programs and events.
